The Brain's White Temple
MacDonald's Work
College for Atheists
Lesson for Farmers

MANUFACTURERS OF M SAFES, co-operating with electricians, have made a signa-lizing steel box, so delicately arranged that it sounds an alarm if a burglar so much as lays his hand on it.

The slightest touch, even the laying of a hat on top of the safe, is felt, reported, and brings police.

Such things amaze us, but each of us is just such a safe. A system of nerves covering the whole body sends the alarm when anything is touched or touched.
And the brain always knows what is going on in the outside world. Lying gray and cold inside its "ivory temple" it sees, hears, feels, tastes and smells, and we don't know how.
There's a really wonderful safe.

Ramsay MacDonald's work in America is well done. The United States and Britain have solemnly pledged themselves to each other as between the two countries, and to the promotion of peace by all proper means, everywhere.

A Russian university in Leningrad is opened to "teach Atheism." Three hundred students, 47 of them women, will prepare themselves for "active propaganda for militant Atheism."

If any newspaper is published in heaven, that news item will go on the comic page.

It suggests a colony of ants on a railroad track of way, organizing a university to prove that there is no such thing as an engineer.

Farmers, crying for "relief," may learn from New York's drinking truck drivers that their relief can be found in organization.

The drivers haul farmers' produce, and wanted an increase in pay, representing as much as the average farmer earns. It was not difficult. The agreement was made that any farm produce hauled into New York must be unloaded from the truck and reloaded into a truck operated by a member of the Truck-men's Association before it could be delivered to a commission house.

Who pays for that reloading, for the second truck, and the services of another truckman, all unnecessary?

THE FARMER PAYS, OF COURSE.

Yesterday the big steel company announced an increase of 15,000 tons, and the railroad bears got their fingers pinched in the door.

Anyone foolish enough to sell America's steel industry, must also expect to be pinched.

Money was comparatively cheap in Wall Street, only 5 per cent.

Former Governor-General of Philippines Believed to Be Hoover's Choice

Washington, Oct. 11.—Designation by President Hoover of American diplomats to a number of foreign posts is expected shortly.

Mr. Cameron Forbes of Boston, who is said to have the support of some of the most prominent Republican leaders, has been mentioned in connection with the Tokyo post.
He was formerly governor-general of the Philippine Islands and has an intimate knowledge of foreign affairs.

The President since coming into office has appointed ambassadors and ministers to a number of the more important foreign posts, but the Tokyo, Stockholm, Tegucigalpa and Montevideo posts are at present vacant.

Ralph J. Totten of Tennessee, the present consul-general in Cap-town, is looked upon by Washington officials as the most promising candidate for the position as minister to South Africa.

Several reasons have been discussed to account for the President's delay in filling the remaining of the diplomatic posts.
One suggests that he desires to wait until the tariff bill finally is passed before making appointments to capitals interested in that legislation. Another, wholly unconfirmed, is that he wishes to Rule Wood Can't Run for Mayor

Russell A. Wood, Cambridge school committee member, will not be a candidate for mayor.
The full bench of the Superior Court today ruled that Wood, whose term as a member of the school committee does not expire until December 31, 1931, could not run under the statute as a candidate.
Wood's claim that the statute was unconstitutional was rejected by the full bench sustained Judge Carroll's ruling sustaining the disqualification of Wood's petition for a writ of mandamus to compel him to resign nomination papers to him.

SUSPENDS 100 AUTO LICENSES

In announcing suspension of 100 operators' licenses, Motor Vehicle Registrar George A. Parker today issued a warning to motorists to be careful in their driving over the Columbus Day weekend.

Twenty of the 100 suspensions, the registrar said, were in improper operation in Columbus ave.
Boston. The registrar's warning stated:

"In former years when the Columbus anniversary fell on weekends, there were many traffic accidents, the number in one year running as high as 12 deaths.
Last year we maintained a good record, but on account of the

CRIPPLE FLEES BRIDGEWATER HOSPITAL JAIL

Walter Perry, Held as Police Slayer, Escapes by Sliding Down 2 Stories

Serving nine years for robbery and awaiting trial for the murder of a policeman, Walter Perry, 23, of Charlestown, escaped today from the state hospital at Bridgewater.

A cripple, able only to hobble without the use of crutches, Perry broke through the steel grating of a window in the room in which he was a prisoner and slid two stories down a rope made of his bed-clothes.

He left his crutches behind, an indication that the escape was carefully planned and that an automobile was waiting to whisk him away.

News of his escape was immediately broadcast throughout New England and a few hours later state authorities were informed that a car believed to contain the fugitive crossed the Rhode Island line shortly after daybreak.

Bridgewater hospital guards were sent in Providence to aid police there in the search.
The police are under indictment for the murder of Patrolman Harris B.

Banker Raps College Grads in Business

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 11.—A college education is regarded as a handicap for young men entering business by George L. Castle, New York banker and graduate of Cornell.

In the Daily Princetonian, he says a university cannot produce in men the drive that business gives them; life is easy and soft for college men. Entering business they have to get rid of lazy habits of thinking.

Columbus Day to Be Fair and Warmer

Columbus Day will be fair and warmer. The record cold spell of the last two days was heading over the ocean this morning. The day's minimum was 37 at 4 and 7 o'clock as compared with 31 yesterday.

Kills Father So He Could Inherit Land

Kentland, Ind., Oct. 11.—Charles Hyers, 34, of Hammond, Ind., confessed that he shot and killed his father, James Hyers, 84, Tuesday night, that he might inherit so much of land. The father was shot through a window at his father's.

Walter Perry, accused slayer, who escaped Bridgewater jail hospital today by sliding down a window, was escorted by police to jail today after recent trial for robbery. He was given nine years on that charge and has been awaiting trial in murder case.

Boys, 6 and 7, Confess Murder of Child, 3

More than two months for the slayer of a boy, who disappeared on July 22, was with his mother, and brother, and sister, Walnut Beach.
His body was found near Myrtle Beach, holding in his hands a gun.

The boys, John and 14, and Mollie, brothers of Walter, were minors of the New Haven Connection in Allington, near New Haven, until they were "turned out" at the beginning of the trial to Mrs. Scherard of Prospect Beach.

The exact manner of the death of the boy, behind it was not determined. The body of the victim was found in a shallow hole in the ground, and the boys, who had been in the hole for some time, admitted to the murder.

Several persons being hysterical and were removed from the building by firemen using ladders.
The building and contents were damaged to an amount of fully $50,000.

The fire originated in the lower part of the three-story brick building, which contained stores on the ground floor, offices on the second and tenements above. The fact that the square is torn up for repaving hindered the firemen.

At its height, the fire threatened the large Union Canadian building, the Presbyterian Church, Public Library and Elms Theater.

NEW WAR STORY IN AMERICAN MONDAY

At last the readers of the Boston Evening American are privileged to read a war story which condenses the real tenderness of a French maid in love with war as a gripping background.

A slip of a girl whose French sweetheart goes to the trenches in an American doughboy with the A.K.P. who falls in love with the war.

From Dale Van Every's scenario of the same name is this serial "Marionette" written by Gladys Johnson, and the first installment will be published in next Monday's Boston Evening American.

"Marionette" heartaches as her doughboy goes to the trenches with her as no other war story has done before.

Remember—it begins MONDAY in all editions of the Boston Evening American.

'NO IMPORTANT LET DOWN IN BUSINESS'

By FRANK H. MELOON
Financial Editor
President George F. Wright of the Flanagan, 42, says he's been in the business for 15 years. He built his reputation as a "fixer" by hooking up with the winners. He tells me, "Whenever the windows of London are closed, I'm there from the outside and people are always looking in with a near-obsessive interest in their condition—that no prolonged major recession in prices of common stocks is in sight. The viewpoint of the investing advisory organizations, however, takes little account of the state of mind, even the uncertainty, of the market. They have a very narrow view, as do the editors of the press, of course. To a large extent, the portfolios of equities to which we refer, in which clients have been able to succeed, is marketed at a low price."

Charles H. Mofatt, former chairman of the Congressional Small Business Committee in Maryland, is now sales manager for a large investment house in District financial district. Mr. Mofatt quotes in his testimony argument by argument.

GAGE P. WRIGHT

John J. Haskett who says: "If a man or woman begins a regular saving of $15 per month—and almost anyone who is employed can do that if he tries—and invests these funds in good common stocks, allowing the dividends and rights to accumulate, he will at the end of twenty years have at least $50,000 and an income from investments of around $500 a month."

Few investment trusts make any other money than that explained by Matthew C. Harris, former head of the Boston-based, American International Corp., reports for the quarter ended September 30 net profit of $100,111 after income tax of $20,000, or 624,030 in the 1928 quarter. Nine months net income was $265,000, annual $1,432,000.

Credit and Sales. Bulletin of the Alexander Hamilton Institute, reviewing New England conditions, says today: "Buying in most lines ahead of last year. Textiles show some improvement. Employment at a satisfactory level. A shortage of labor is noted in some lines, particularly in the small products."

The women manufacturers are optimistic over the demand for fall apparel, and students, principally for slacks. These manufacturers are still active. Many companies are opening all accounts in cash in capacity and will probably continue busy during the current month. The clothing manufacturers are experiencing a steady demand for men's and women's clothing.

Wholesale and retail trade improved. Department stores were up on the increase. Cotton textile mills have passed through the normal midsummer lull and are now showing slight improvement. Cotton spindle activity which had been on the decline since May, recovered in August to about the June level.

FEDS LYNN HAS BEEN RAPPED ON KNUCKLES AND KNEES TOO MUCH

CITY TIRED OF 'DIN AND SCOLDING'

'Let's Have a Little Quiet!' Is Campaign Platform of McPhetres

By ELIAS McHEATH
Former Mayor Har and A. McPhetres of Lynn, who expects to be nominated next Tuesday, and returned to City Hall in November, turned on a two-faced platform. Let's have a little quiet. The former mayor, a giant of a young man, 6 feet 2 inches tall, came home from the big war a sergeant in the 104th Field Artillery of the Yankee Division. I talked with him in McPhetres' headquarters, Spring st., where at the time seemed as quiet as a baby's breath at the North Pole. Yes sir, said Mr. McPhetres, if there is one thing this abused, child-reared, battered and ruined little city wants, more than anything else, it is a little quiet. We've been blamed, centered, frowned upon, administered, harried at and rapped on the knuckles and the bare knees until we can stand no more. The windows of I. on have been shaking for four years. We have had nothing but noise, racket and scolding. We need relief. We want hush, calm, for a while. That's all there is to it. That's my platform. Let's have a little quiet.

LEADING CANDIDATES
There are six candidates for nomination for mayor of Lynn, of whom will survive Tuesday's primary to fight it out in November. The two Democratic candidates are so far ahead in the polls, that even in the know, will be picked from among these three: Atty. Gen. Mayors Lynn McPhetres, former Mayor McPhetres, Assistant J. Fred Manning.

What I think to be the worst traffic jam ever seen outside Adams st. was nothing of the sort. There are 18 candidates for four places as councilmen at large, and there are 14 aspirants for six vacancies on the school committee and, naturally, they keep bumping into one another and tying the town up in a knot. Among the latter, before I forget to mention him, is Frank J. O'Brien, of 12th Church st., whose brigade of young children march in school every day and who, therefore, is an authority on school books, home work and the reason for a Parent-Teacher Association.

Acting Mayor Lynn McPhetres may be described as the favorite candidate of those so-called moderate, responsible and more thoughtful citizens who so frequently forget to go to the polls.

With McPhetres, Lynn Ranger enjoys the distinction of being a town candidate well known beyond the borders of his city. Seventeen years ago, a youth of 28 he was in the thick of the Bull Moose movement. The Republicans of the district sent him to the National Convention of 1912 in the city of Chicago. He attracted attention by his effort to bring the Ray State standard and carry it in a framed, T. outside around the hall. He followed for the legal profession and admitted to the bar. Ranger turned in his latest work with such success that at 45 he is president and treasurer of Lynn McPhetres, Inc., a wholesale coal corporation of Boston; treasurer of William Cushman & Sons, West Quincy; treasurer of the O. G. River Lumber Co., South Boston; treasurer of the Chavis Shoe Co., Lynn; and a director in the Sagamore Trust.

The Rangers whose home on Currier st. is in the Diamond Thicket have three children. Two of them are away at school, but Mary is at home and she is in the second grade this year and if anyone wants to know, she is one of the sweetest and sweetest little girls in Essex County.

Acting Mayor Ranger is serving his fourth year in the Lynn City Council, these last two years as president. He is platform to not as a "Mack," but neither is it.

OTHER CANDIDATES
The expenditures of the corporation we know as the city of Lynn, Ranger said, amount to $3,000,000 a year. Choice of the man to place at the head of that business is a serious matter. He would know the city, he should understand business principles and he should be one who understands and is in sympathy with the aspirations of his fellow citizens. All I care to say is that I don't want to see it.

Four other candidates will for the November nomination are: J. Fred Manning, George H. Jackson, John W. Tappan and William E. Seaton. The boys tell me J. Fred Manning of the board of assessors "has a chance" and may turn out to be the big surprise of the race.

Mr. Manning has worked at the bench in the shoe shop of the community, studied law and was admitted to the bar, has been active in the Father Mathew Temperance Society. As one of the assessors, he knows all about taxation and such and at public meeting he has been doing a little business on the blackboard like this CITY OF LYNN EXPENDITURES 1928 $2,924,144.00 1929 $3,042,358.96 Increase in 10 years $124,214.96 How to call a halt," says J. Fred Manning.

Candidates Prescribe for Lynn

Harlan McPhetres

"Let us have a little quiet," is the cryptic platform of former Mayor Harlan McPhetres of Lynn, who is again a candidate for chief executive in that city. Bare legs, noise and a whole series of enervating and descriptive words are applied to the Lynn situation by Candidate McPhetres, a six-foot-two-inch veteran of the World War, and of politics, who says that the city is chided and abused.

Lynn M. Ranger
Lynn M. Ranger, prominent in the days of the Bull Moose movement and at present acting mayor of the city, says that spending $7,000,000 yearly is a serious business and he is willing to make it such if the voters of the city wish him to fill the mayoral chair. He is a business man and an officer in a number of corporations as well as head of his own concern.

Vet Family in Need, Makes New Plea

Nathan Strohl is still looking for a few dollars' worth of his family's needs. He is a veteran of the World War, a member of the American Legion, and a man who has been through a lot of hardship. He is now in a desperate financial straits, and is making a new plea for help. LONG TRIP TO HUB IN VAIN

After traveling 500 miles through rain and snow, a man named John J. Fitzgerald of Central st., Watbain, narrowly escaped serious injuries when the steering gear of his automobile broke down near the Hill school. The driver suffered a head injury, but was otherwise unhurt.

CURTIS VISITS NEWSBOYS

Pres. Cyrus H. K. Curtis of the Curtis Publishing Co. of Philadelphia was a visitor at the Harry E. Burroughs Newsboys' Foundation. He said he had heard much of the foundation from friends in Philadelphia and wanted to see it. Many boys were dismissed from the Wendell Phillips school to meet Mr. Curtis in the Junior High school, where he was met by Alfred E. Burton, former dean of the Wendell Phillips school.

Needless Pain!

Some folks take pain for granted. They let a cold "run its course." They wait for their headaches to "wear off." If suffering from neuralgia or from neuritis, they rely on feeling better in the morning. Meanwhile, they suffer unnecessary pain. Unnecessary, because there is an antidote. Bayer Aspirin always offers immediate relief from various aches and pains we once had to endure. If pain persists, consult your doctor as to its cause.

Miss Weeder Not Clark's Classmate

Miss May Weeder of Beverly, who was found guilty of assaulting Paul Clark, 19, of Boston, and not a classmate of Clark at Beverly high school as stated in Clark's affidavit, that it was not he who called Miss Weeder to make a date with her. The case against the mother was placed on file after she was found guilty.

CARRYING ON FOR VILLANOVA GRID TEAM

Here is a photo of Johnny Gillespie, great halfback of the Villanova eleven which arrived in Boston this morning for the game with Boston College at Fenway Park tomorrow afternoon. Gillespie was frequently mentioned as an All-American gridman at the end of last season. His team was not defeated a year ago. All the veterans are back, with five new men on the varsity squad. So B. C. is likely to have a hard time in the fray at the lens.

"A Used Car Is as Good as the Dealer Who Sells It to You"

WITH the arrival of ideal autumn motoring weather, countless thousands are answering the lure of New England's great wonderland in their own automobiles.

Practically every place worth seeing may be reached over a network of fine highways which adds greatly to the delightfulness of motoring.

Thus has the automobile opened new avenues of pleasure. If you haven't a machine—make up your mind now to select your car from among those offered by the automobile merchants of Greater Boston.

Here you'll find practically every make and model manufactured—and priced according to the size of your pocket book.

The first owner suffers a rapid price depreciation entirely out of proportion to the wear on the car. Consequently it is possible to get a car with 80% of its mileage UNUSED for 60% of its price when new.

Thus, the first owner's loss is the second owner's gain. Buy on a basis of UNUSED MILES and you won't go wrong. So, if value is your chief concern, and thrift is one of your characteristics, avail yourself of the unusual opportunities presented by the automobile merchants of Greater Boston. They are offering lowest possible prices, and terms within reach of all.

A good used car will perform many varied duties: Drive you to your office; carry your wife on her shopping tours; transport your children to and from school in inclement weather; convey the entire family out into the country.

Select the car best suited to your transportation needs from the many makes, models and prices listed for sale in the Classified Section of today's newspaper.
